PRESS RELEASE FROM THE PREMIER, MR. DUNSTAN.FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

20.10.72

The Premier, Mr. Dunstan, today appealed to South Australians to take the utmost caution during the coming summer months to prevent fires.

He was launching Fire Prevention Week, which lasts from October 21 to 28.

"During the summer months much of South Australia is like a huge tinder box - one careless moment can literally spark off another Black Sunday, with the tragedy of life lost and catastrophic destruction of property.

"The fact that we have had so few urban and rural fires of any significance in recent years is a tribute to the efficiency of our professional and volunteer fire services and the co-operation of the general public.

"But we must maintain constant vigilance if this success is to continue."

The Premier said there was a great need for more awareness of the fire threat in domestic situations.

"Fatalities and bad injuries from fire have, in recent years, centred around individuals in domestic situations.

"Children are most vulnerable and I appeal to all parents to be constantly alert to the multitude of threats which fire poses to youngsters and to guard against them to the maximum possible extent."
